Opening the Word: Seeing God in the Poor

Amos lived in a period of religious reform. The deeds Amos condemns (Amos 6:1a, 4-7) are those of injustice to the poor, abuse of power, and sexual license. Even in the midst of these violations of the covenant life to which it had been called, Israel evidenced a self-satisfaction, an assurance of its own merit. While some in Israel enjoyed the luxuries that wealth can supply, others were sold into slavery or abused in the field or marketplace. Amos suggested that Israel may well be worse off than it had been when worshipping other gods. There are solemn covenant obligations that come with the worship of the true God. Every gift we receive from God is meant for benefit of others as well as ourselves.

Just as the prophets warned Israel that its special status wouldn't protect but rather condemn it if it failed to act in accord with that grace, so too the tremendous blessings of grace that we receive in the sacraments won't assure our salvation if we're not receptive to and transformed by them. The graces we've been offered will stand in witness against us if we refuse these gifts of God.

It is wealth that blinded Israel to the obligations of the covenant and its own complacency in the time of Amos, and Paul now warns Bishop Timothy that "some people in their desire for it have strayed from the faith and have pierced themselves with many pains" (1 Timothy 6:10). Our first reading (1 Timothy 6:11-16) describes the dangers to our religious commitment that wealth can pose, and this reading describes what the man or woman of God should seek as an alternative.

Paul shows no shyness about invoking his full authority in order to stiffen the commitment of Timothy in the face of false teachings that had appeared in Ephesus. All Christians, and not merely bishops, are called to the highest possible standard of integrity, piety, faith, love, steadfastness, and gentleness of spirit. Without the grace we receive from our profession of faith and the sacraments which flow from it, none of us could meet that standard.

In Luke 16:19-31, the parable is about a rich man (sometimes called "Dives" in Latin, meaning "rich man") and a poor beggar named Lazarus, who lives at the gate of the rich man. In the end, Dives finds "torment" in the afterlife and Lazarus finds "rest" in the bosom of Abraham. It's this reference to Abraham's bosom, traditionally understood as the place where the souls of the just awaited their redemption prior to Christ's coming, which would have appealed to the Pharisees. Jesus may be issuing a warning to the Pharisees as well. Dives did nothing to offend Lazarus, he simply failed to notice him; his heart had grown hard to the point that he couldn't see the needs of a man sitting at his own gate.

There's a religious corollary to the hardness of the heart that material wealth can cause. We can easily become complacent toward those who are outside the Church because of the wealth that God has given us in all the graces of the new covenant. We must strive to be more attentive to the needs of those at our gates, even those outside our covenant family. In the case of both material help and sharing the Gospel, fidelity to God and his covenant demands it.

St. Pius X Enriched Living Facility

"Caring for Those who Cared for Us"

The special collection for retired priests, living at St. Pius X Enriched Living Facility, will take place this weekend, September 24th & 25th.

Our priests, at retirement, often have given forty years or more to the mission of our Church and bringing people closer to Christ. The St. Pius X Residence enables these dedicated men who need extra care and attention to live at a facility that provides them with that special care, while still enabling them to serve as active fully engaged members of the community.

The Catholic Church of Long Island is blessed and privileged to be able to care for our senior priests – men who have dedicated their lives to serving God and our community.

We welcome your support of this important endeavor. For more information or to donate online go to www.drvc.org/stpiusx Or call 516- 379-5210 ext 229 for more information.

Faith on Tap

Faith on tap is a forum engaging young adults in straight talk and honest answers to questions of faith. Faith on Tap offers young adults a place where they can meet others who are also living out their faith. Join us at Lily Flanagan's at 345 Deer Park Avenue, Babylon on Monday, October 10, 2016 @ 7:30pm, where our guest speaker will be our very own, Seminarian, Stephen Rooney, who is known for his selfie with the Pope! Since entering the Seminary, Stephen has served the homeless in Manhattan at the Catholic Worker, has bicycled across the country for affordable housing and participated in the Biking 4 Vocations pilgrimage. Join us for Stephen's talk "What does your selfie say about you? You are more than your social media feed." The talks begin at 7:30p.m., but come early - have something to eat - meet new friends - catch up with old friends! For more information, please contact Marianne Sheridan, Director for Young Adults at msheridan@drvc.org.

St. Vincent de Paul

The basic commandment is to love God and neighbor. There is such a scriptural insistence on taking care of the poor and needy because when all have their fill of the good gifts of God it is a sign of God's care and presence, the in-breaking of God's reign where no one will be in need. When we neglect to care for those in need we actually delay the coming of God's kingdom. "Join the Society of St. Vincent de Paul!"

Bulletin Reflection

The sin of the rich man in today's parable was not that he was rich, but that he failed to share his wealth with the beggar at the gate. He knew Lazarus, walked by him every time he came in or out, but did nothing to relieve his suffering. Is there a Lazarus in my life?

Lighthouse Catholic Media Book of the Week

Everything You Ever Wanted to Know
About Heaven — Dr. Peter Kreeft

Peter Kreeft provides a look at the nature of Heaven that offers all readers a refreshingly clear, theologically sound, and always fascinating glimpse of that "undiscovered country." Kreeft's engaging and informative account thoughtfully answers such intriguing questions as: How can we know what Heaven is like? What will we do in Heaven? Will we know everything in Heaven? Can we know the joy of Heaven now? Kreeft speaks to the heart and mind, blending contemporary thinking and classical views to give us an unexcelled look at one of the most popular, yet least understood, subjects in religion.
